Government Expectations:

- Remote education, where needed, is high quality and aligns as closely as possible with in-school provision: schools and other settings continue to build their capability to educate pupils remotely, where this is needed.
- Remote education may need to be an essential component in the delivery of the school curriculum for some pupils, alongside classroom teaching, or in the case of a local lockdown. All schools are therefore expected to plan to ensure any pupils educated at home for some of the time are given the support they need to master the curriculum and so make good progress.
- Where a class, group or small number of pupils need to self-isolate, or there is a local lockdown requiring pupils to remain at home, we expect schools to have the capacity to offer immediate remote education. Schools are expected to consider how to continue to improve the quality of their existing offer and have a strong contingency plan in place for remote education provision by the end of September. This planning will be particularly important to support a scenario in which the logistical challenges of remote provision are greatest, for example where large numbers of pupils are required to remain at home.

In developing these contingency plans, we expect schools to:

- use a curriculum sequence that allows access to high-quality online and offline resources and teaching videos, and that is linked to the school's curriculum expectations
- give access to high quality remote education resources
- select the online tools that will be consistently used across the school in order to allow interaction, assessment and feedback, and make sure staff are trained in their use
- provide printed resources, such as textbooks and workbooks, for pupils who do not have suitable online access
- recognise that younger pupils and some pupils with SEND may not be able to access remote education without adult support, and so schools should work with families to deliver a broad and ambitious curriculum.

When teaching pupils remotely, schools are expected to:

- set assignments so that pupils have meaningful and ambitious work each day in a number of different subjects
- teach a planned and well-sequenced curriculum so that knowledge and skills are built incrementally, with a good level of clarity about what is intended to be taught and practised in each subject
- provide frequent, clear explanations of new content, delivered by a teacher in the school or through high quality curriculum resources and/or videos
- gauge how well pupils are progressing through the curriculum, using questions and other suitable tasks and set a clear expectation on how regularly teachers will check work
- enable teachers to adjust the pace or difficulty of what is being taught in response to questions or assessments, including, where necessary, revising material or simplifying explanations to ensure pupils' understanding

- plan a programme that is of equivalent length to the core teaching pupils would receive in school, ideally including daily contact with teachers
- We expect schools to avoid an over-reliance on long-term projects or internet research activities.

Woodmancote's Rationale:

- ♥ Stay connected with families - particularly at a time of uncertainty and worry.
- ♥ To be a constant for our children.
- ♥ Help children to learn new content by an increase in teaching videos and taught material.
- ♥ Provide a routine/structure to help parents and children to focus.
- ♥ To have daily contact with our children through messaging.
- ♥ To give feedback to our children that will enable them to progress.
- ♥ To mirror as close as possible our broad and balanced curriculum in school.

1. Aims

This remote learning policy for staff aims to:

- Ensure consistency in the approach to remote learning for pupils who aren't in school
- Set out expectations for all members of the school community with regards to remote learning
- Provide appropriate guidelines for data protection

2. Roles and responsibilities

Mrs Sarah Badham, working alongside Mr Evans and Mrs Grosvenor, Key Stage Leads, will have overall responsibility for Remote Learning as part of Curriculum responsibilities.

2.1 Teachers

When providing remote learning, teachers must be available between 8.45 and 3.45

If they're unable to work for any reason during this time, for example due to sickness or caring for a dependent, they should report this using the normal absence procedure.

When providing remote learning, teachers are responsible for:

- Setting work

In the event of a child being absent, awaiting test:

- If a child is off due to symptoms of covid and awaiting a test, the office should direct them to use Oak Academy <https://classroom.thenational.academy/>

In the event of a confirmed case and the whole class, including teacher is off, awaiting tests:

- Class teacher should determine who has and who has not got internet access, by liaising with the SBM
- Children with limited access should already have packs made up and distributed via the school office.
- For online Learning, the school will only use Teams and the class teacher will upload the work for each day/week.
- The resources used can be teacher generated, specific Oak Academy lessons or links to other online resources.
- Each day the teacher should follow the suggested whole school timetable and spend time on TEAMS outlining the day and then teaching an aspect of the curriculum as appropriate, using a range of resources. It is not an expectation that all lessons will be Live, but teachers may want to record aspects of teaching and learning and then post these for pupils to access when possible.
- Each child should be provided with at least four hours of academic study or craft/DT activities
- Both classes in each year group should have the same quality and quantity of work set.

- Providing feedback on work

- For children with hard copies of work, teachers should make contact with parents on a regular basis to determine how children are responding to work. Specific guidance to parents will need to be generated for them to support their child's learning. This could be in the form of toolkits.

- Feedback to children using online platform should be with 48 hours.
- Keeping in touch with pupils who aren't in school and their parents
 - Allocated staff (Pastoral Team) will be assigned to making contact with children who are on the school's vulnerable list, have SEN needs or who need additional support.
 - Class teachers will make daily contact with the class according to the timetable.
 - Class teachers will be available throughout the day via email and Teams
 - Class teachers need not respond to communication outside the allocated hours highlighted above.
 - Safeguarding concerns should be reported via the usual channel (CPOMS)
 - Parental concerns should, in the first instance, be handled by the class teacher, but may be referred to the HT or Key Stage Leads when appropriate.
 - Where a child has not completed work, the class teacher should seek an explanation from the parent.
- Attending virtual meetings with staff, parents and pupils
 - Staff working from home should dress appropriately for Virtual Teaching, i.e. in the same manner as they would if they were at school.
 - Staff should be mindful of the teaching or meeting environment behind them and remove anything that may cause offence or be deemed inappropriate by parents.
 - Where teachers are in school teaching, but the parallel teacher is self-isolating with their class, consideration should be given to streaming the class lessons to the parallel class.

4.2 Keeping devices secure

All staff members will take appropriate steps to ensure their School devices remain secure. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Only use school laptops supplied for school work, rather than personal home computers or devices
- Only use the encrypted memory sticks supplied by the school
- Report any loss of school laptops or encrypted memory sticks immediately
- All school staff to read and sign the 'Acceptable Use Agreement' and 'Use of Memory Stick Agreement'
