Introduction

At Woodmancote, we aim to create a happy, safe, caring, stimulating and inclusive environment for all. We encourage self-discipline and aim to keep rules and regulations to a minimum. We have just three key rules throughout the school and all language is related to these key words.

- Be Respectful
- Be Safe
- Be Ready

Promoting good behaviour amongst the pupils is a shared responsibility. All those who work with the school, Governors, parents, the wider community and the children, all have a vital role to play. As members of the school community, all stakeholders should aim to build positive relationships with each other and we expect each individual to respect others, their families, culture and beliefs, as part of the high standards of behaviour that we have.

We believe that implementing the principles of Relational Practice* helps us to focus on building better relationships with each other, taking the time to ensure that every member of our school community feels listened to, valued and respected. We support pupils in developing the skills to maintain positive relationships with others and to resolve disagreements and problems themselves. It is our role to educate our pupils to understand how their behaviour affects others and its impact on others. Pupils are supported to identify ways they can put right the harm they have caused. Pupils understand that there are consequences to actions, but these are not punitive. We aim to promote honesty.

Aims:

- To develop positive relationships through a relational and restorative approach, which promotes self-esteem, self-discipline and which establish clear expectations of all members of the school community.
- Through shared expectations and a consistent approach we aim to promote a harmonious working environment where all can develop their skills of working both independently and cooperatively.
- By creating a sensitive and supportive atmosphere, we want all children to be happy and confident with each other and in their work.
- To establish a partnership approach which draws on all those involved with the school.
- To provide systems which promote positive behaviour and which support all members of the school community.
- Recognise the importance of effective teaching and learning in the promotion of positive behaviour. (Teaching and Learning Policy)
- To monitor and evaluate the effectiveness of our relationships and behaviour policy and procedures.

Relational Practices

Being 'Relational' focuses on building positive relationships based on responsibility, respect and fairness. In turn this creates a community that is supportive, accountable and respectful. We believe that every individual is responsible for their own behaviour. The framework is based upon 'knowing the effect that I have on others'. Making changes to the way we approach incidences and issues provides children, and others, the opportunity to think about how they relate to each other and how they can find positive ways of repairing harm caused and promotes taking responsibility without fear. Children and adults are encouraged to put things right together.

We understand the importance of modelling positive language, behaviour and take time to develop positive and meaningful relationships with colleagues and pupils. When positive relationships are developed and connections are made individuals are less likely to cause harm to others or choose to damage relationships.

Little Chestnuts and EYFS adaptations

- We recognise that for our youngest children this will may be their first time learning how to manage their emotions and behaviours in a large group setting. Transitions into pre-school and Reception class can cause anxiety, which may impact upon their actions. We believe that children flourish when they know how they are expected to behave and develop a sense of themselves through interactions with warm, caring, adults who treat them with respect. We set boundaries for behaviour and explain these to the children, using picture cues as reminders. We praise desired behaviour with positive affirmation e.g. good sitting X well done.
- At Little Chestnuts and in Reception we understand that children at certain stages of their development, will demonstrate behaviour that is generally considered negative. This may be physical e.g. biting, hitting, snatching, or through vocalisations and refusals. All staff will respond to these in a calm, positive manner, whilst re-enforcing that these behaviours are not acceptable. Parents will be informed through discussion at pick up, of these incidents.
- We teach about sharing, often using a timer to help take turns, kind hands, modelling positive interactions and discuss feelings of frustration often by 'wondering' what has upset the child. A staff member may sit with a child whilst they have some time to calm down and regulate themselves, before discussing any negative behaviour. Praise is always given quickly when good choices are made.
- Children will not be restricted, unless to prevent physical harm to themselves or others. Any incident where a child needs to be safeguarded in this way, will be recorded and conveyed to parents.
- Should negative behaviours continue, more formal meetings will be scheduled with parents including class teachers and SLT/SENCO, so a holistic approach can be adopted. In extreme cases we reserve the right to modify the sessions attended by the child in Little Chestnuts.

The Relational Approach

The Relational approach focuses on ensuring that all members of the school community feel that they have a sense of Belonging.

The ethos of the school underpins all rules and expectations relating to behaviour within the school. Children need to know and help understand the school/class rules and expectations. Each teacher works with their class detailing a shared set of rights and responsibilities for all members of the class community, both children and adults, to adhere to.

During circle time, expectations of behaviours are taught and the three key 'rules', Ready, Respectful and Safe are reinforced.

Pupils who follow the rules and expectations must have their actions acknowledged and where appropriate, rewarded. Those who do not follow the rules or expectations need to know that their actions will not be ignored. Consequences of inappropriate choices will be discussed and decided upon with the pupil and the consequence enforced.

What are our expectations for pupil and adult conduct?

We are proud we have created a well-organised, attractive and stimulating learning environment. We have expectations for the various areas within the school as well as for behaviour during specific 'whole school' activities such as assemblies.

The school environment-Our expectation is that classrooms will be tidy and well organised as this has a positive impact on behaviour. All of us should be proud of our school. It is the responsibility of adults and children alike to maintain our pleasant school by looking after the resources and displays.

Corridors-Children are expected to walk quietly around the building at all times (especially when passing through areas where other people are working). Children and adults should be keen to hold doors open for others showing politeness and consideration for others.

Collective Worship-Staff and children are expected to enter and leave the worship calmly and quietly, and sit quietly during worship showing respect for the adult or children delivering it. Children and adults should be keen to participate and contribute to any interactive parts of a worship in a positive and respectful manner. Members of staff who accompany their class into worship, and wish to issue instructions to children in worship should usually do this using signs rather than speech, and should lead their class in and out of worship from the front of the line.

The dinner hall-Children should line up quietly, be polite when receiving their meal and follow any directions of the adults in charge. They should be taught to maintain good manners at the table and enjoy polite conversations giving due consideration to the level of noise. After the meal children should clear their eating area, leave the dining area quietly and walk to the playground or field.

The playground-In our school, we do not distinguish between one adult to another, regardless of role. At lunchtime, children are expected to respect any adults on duty in the same way that they would with the teaching staff. All children should feel safe outside and must be made aware of the play ground rules and the importance of informing a duty adult if they have been hurt, are having friendship difficulties or harassed. The adults on duty are responsible for ensuring that a good range of play equipment is available for the children; that they are safe; that the playground rules are being adhered to and that any incidents are being properly dealt with within the restorative framework. (We use the term restorative when related to 'restoring' the relationship)

Any serious behaviour incidents should be reported to the Senior Leadership Team member after further investigation.

School uniform-Children are expected to wear school uniform. We feel this gives the children a sense of pride and purpose and creates a sense of community that encourages good behaviour. Guidance for school uniform is detailed in the prospectus section of the school website, or available in printed form from the school office.

Curriculum Support-Through JIGSAW, we aim to teach children the importance of forming good relationships and equip them with the skills to do this. We have high expectations of the children and believe that they should behave because it is the right thing to do and not because they believe there will be a material benefit. However, the school has a number of ways of rewarding good behaviour, for both groups and individuals, as it believes that this will develop an ethos of kindness and cooperation. Personal, Social, Health, Citizenship and Economic education (PSHCE) lessons, Circle Time, school assemblies, out-of school experiences and after school clubs also contribute to the pupil's understanding.

Discrete PSHCE lessons are taught on a regular basis to ensure all pupils understand the key stages of the Relational Approach and have the required skills to be able to resolve issues with adult support or independently, where appropriate.

Implementation of the Relational/ Restorative Approach-Practicalities

We recognise that all children are unique individuals and therefore we are somewhat flexible in the manner we address any incidences of negative behaviour. The stages of the Relational Approach underpin our method in dealing with behaviour issues but we are conscious that we adapt our approach to ensure it is suitable for the pupil's age and level of understanding.

When working with pupils in the Early Years Foundation Stage our focus is on the initial stages of the Relational Approach. Staff working with these pupils focus on helping them to grasp the concepts of feelings and how they are caused. Modelling, small group work, peer support and visual resources such as photographs and Communicate in Print cards are all used to support the pupils' understanding and development of empathy.

This approach is also adapted for other pupils throughout the school. Pupils with low levels of emotional maturity or with Special Educational Needs can require support in recognising how their actions have affected others or how they feel about an incident. Where a child has been identified as having SEN (e.g. non-verbal autism), an alternative approach, will be discussed and decided upon via a Team Around the Child meeting (TAC).

Restrictive Physical Intervention (RPI)

On rare occasions there are incidences where behaviours severely damage another or compromise the safety of our pupils and adults. In these cases the adults will immediately report to the Headteacher who will determine the consequences.

However, in all situations pupils will be treated within the Relational Framework so that when they are calm their views are heard and they have the opportunity to take responsibility and repair harm caused.

To fulfil our duty of care to prevent harm, Restrictive Physical Intervention may happen as a last resort, under Section 93 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006, in any of the following exceptional circumstances, where reasonable, and where all other options have been exhausted.

To prevent a pupil from doing, or continuing to:

- a. Commit any offence (or, for a pupil under the age of criminal responsibility (10 years), what would be an offence for an older pupil);
- b. Cause personal injury to, or damage to the property of, any person (including the pupil themselves); or
- c. Prejudice the maintenance of good order and discipline at the school or among any pupils receiving education at the school, whether during a teaching session or otherwise.

Our policy for RPI is 'the minimum degree of intrusion required to resolve the situation, for the minimum amount of time'. RPI will always be carried out with the child's safety and dignity in mind. Any particular Special Educational Need and/or disability that a pupil might have will be properly taken into account under the Equalities Act 2010, before any member of staff exercises the power to use force.

We have used the term relational practice, but recognise that this is also known as restorative practice. We will use restorative to refer to the actions after something has happened and the relationship needs to be 'restored'.*

Appendix 3 Class DoJo - Policy and Procedures

Class DoJo will only be used for the recognition of Positive Behaviour.

Class Dojo offers a classroom management platform for teachers to easily encourage any behaviour or skill in the classroom and keep parents in the loop.

Positive 'Behaviours'

All staff are to use these positive 'behaviours' when using Class Dojo. Further 'behaviours' can be added at the teacher's discretion but should always be based on learning behaviour.

Rewards

Positive points are to be awarded when children have displayed learning behaviours. To ensure the awarding of points remains manageable for teachers, points can be added at the end of a session, as long as children know why they have earned them.

Further extrinsic recognition (e.g. stickers, certificates, trophies) can be used at the discretion of the teacher.

Children who go above and beyond expectations in a particular area or consistently achieve a high number of points per day/week are to be recognised with Head Teacher awards.

Communication with Parents

It is expected that Teachers will use the messaging/blogging facility when they feel it is necessary. The messaging/blogging facility allows Teachers to broadcast a message to all parents (such as sharing a reminder, assignment or homework), and also send private, meaningful communication.

When communicating with parents about poor behaviour, the teacher will focus on the three rules and how a child's behaviour is not 'RESPECTFUL, SAFE or they have shown they have not been READY.'

Appendix 4 Scripting

Assertive sentence stems from When the Adults Change Everything Changes by Paul Dix

1. You need to (speak to me at the side of the room)
2. I need to see you.... (following the agreed routine)
3. I expect..... (to see your table immaculately tidy in the next two minutes)
4. I know you will....(help Kyra to clean the pen off her face)
5. Thank you for.... (letting go of her hair, let's walk and talk)
6. I have heard what you said, now you must.... (collect your things calmly and move to the thinking spot)
7. We will.... (have a better day tomorrow)!

Six ways to reroute a power play from When the Adults Change Everything Changes by Paul Dix

- 1) I understand.... (that you are angry/upset/livid)
- 2) I need you to... (come with me so that we can resolve this properly)
- 3) Maybe you are right.... (maybe I need to speak to them too)
- 4) Be that as it may.... (I still need you to join in with the group)
- 5) I've often thought the same... (but we need to focus on...)
- 6) I hear you.... (it's not easy but you can do it brilliantly)

Other suggestions

- Well this is what happened so we need to do this now.
- I wish we could do that now but first we need to
- Then we can
- I wish we were able to do that but
- Would it help if
- First we will do this, then we can
- I know that you find it hard to talk and that's alright.
- Can you show me what you
- Mrs X will make the classroom safe by.....
- Mr X will make the school safe by
- Wonder out loud... 'Mmmmm I wonder what you are trying to show me.....'
- You talk and I will listen
- It can sometimes help if you...

Appendix 5 De-escalation Strategies

1) Observe the situation/read the clues

2) Determine your safety

- Is the child getting calmer or getting more upset?
- Can you be with this child and reasonably safe?
- If necessary, send a message to SLT/NEST

3) Staff behaviour

Facial features

- Relaxed; good eye contact (not staring)
- Serious (not stern) looks
- Attentive, focused on the person

Body stance

- Standing diagonally, at least a metre away
- Hands down to the sides, palms facing person
- Weight equally balanced on both feet

Voice tone

- Calm, quiet, slow paced, remember to breathe
- Sound confident that you can help them

Attitude

- I have time for you
- You are an important person
- Together we can make things better
- Let's talk about it

Words being said

- I'd like to see if we can work this out
- Please tell me more about what happened
- Tell me about how you have been unfairly treated
- Let's go to a place where we can talk more privately
- Clarify those things you don't understand
- Listen on two levels - the meaning of the words and the emotional meaning
- Use their words or similar words when you talk about the situation

Language to use during the Restorative Conversation:

Encouraging: Tell me some more about that?

Clarification: Can you help me understand that more...

Checking: So did I hear you say.... Am I right in thinking.....

Reflecting: So you..... (Repeating back last few words)

Summarising: So there seem to be several things bothering you? And earlier you said....

Empathy: It's understandable that you are worried / upset about/ this; sounds tough;

Affirmation: Thanks for telling me that; I appreciate you talking about this with me

Appendix 8 The Restorative Approach

Incidences of negative behaviour that require a formal or informal restorative conversation are dealt with in a fair, respectful and appropriate way, with the key focus on individuals taking responsibility for their behaviour, repairing any harm done, rebuilding and restoring relationships.

The key principle when dealing with issues is to give all the people involved a chance to have their say and become actively involved in the process. All members of staff and children know that issues will be dealt with fairly.

When there have been incidences between two children key questions will be asked to find out what has happened and how the individuals involved can make things right again, or repair the harm caused.

Our aim is not to ask 'Why?' something has happened but to determine what has led up to an issue and resolve it in a positive way.

Everyone involved in an incident is taken through a Restorative dialogue and is therefore supported in coming to understand the harm that has been caused to all parties.

The Restorative Approach and use of consequences

When using consequences, the child(ren) should always be involved and be an active part of deciding upon any consequences, ensuring they are constructive and allow the child to learn from what has happened, as opposed to a sanction being imposed and the child seeing themselves as the victim of punishment. Consequences should be logical, natural and relational.

We aim to help the children look at any negative effects they have caused to others and see that consequences are a way of putting things right with the person who has been hurt, as well as with the school community, which expects a high standard of good behaviour.

Some children with social, emotional or mental health difficulties require time to calm down and this is an important part of developing a child's self-management skills. 'Time outs' can be offered to children before an incident is dealt with. The Ladder shows an overview of the kinds of behaviour that would warrant different levels of consequences within the policy.

When should behaviour incidents be logged?

The child's class teacher should log the following incidents/issues on CPOMS if they arise for a child in their class:

1. When a pupil damages property on purpose (belonging to school or to another individual in school)
2. Racist or homophobic incidents (these also need to be reported separately to the HT)
3. Severe swearing/verbal abuse
4. Incidents in which another individual (child or adult) has been injured/assaulted with proven intent

5. Incidents in which another individual has been injured/ assaulted, on purpose, and there is a visible injury, whether or not intent can be proved
6. Incidents relating to ongoing issues with a child that need recording (for example, incidents between two children that are not up to the level of assault, but give extra evidence and a broader picture for multi-agency meetings, etc. Alternatively, a child may have confided that they are being bullied, and any incidents between them and the 'bully' should be logged).

It is up to the judgement of the class teacher based on their knowledge of the children whether to record when the children's opinions differ about an incident, the perpetrator claims accident, and there are no other witnesses.

If any of the behaviours above occur during lunchtime, the Midday Supervisor (MDS) involved should report this and pass to the Class Teacher. The teacher will take responsibility for logging this on CPOMS and make any decision about whether to refer this on. These behaviours must always be reported to parents/carers. The method used is up to the discretion of the class teacher and it is their responsibility to follow through both with communication, consequences in line with the restorative framework and log this.
